

BRAND BOOK
2022

WHO ARE WE?

E.V.E. is an intersectional, feminist, student-led organization that aims to educate that presence and perspective is power, give students voices, create youth advocates for social equality, and empowers people of all genders.

WHAT DO WE DO?

E.V.E. has a unique campaign that encourages secondary school students to lead E.V.E. chapter's at their schools.

E.V.E. has a strong Instagram presence where positive change is led with educational posts that advocate social issues and echo awareness days. E.V.E. speakers participate in events such as:

Being A Non-Man In Western Society (hosted by The Future Is Female), Intersectional Feminism and Student Rights 2021 (hosted by E.V.E.), volX Youth Exhibitor (hosted by Volunteer MBC), and Winter Club Fair 2021 (hosted by Clubordinate).

OUR ORGANIZATION IN ONE WORD:

INTERSECTIONAL.

OUR VALUES:

EMPOWERMENT. EDUCATION. LIBERATION. ADVOCACY.
EQUALITY. SUPPORT. CHANGE. POWER. VOICE.

IMPORTANCE OF (RE)BRANDING?

Marketing and graphic design are too often overlooked in businesses. They happen to be the most critical jobs in building and shaping an organization's identity. A brand is a unique feature that distinguishes one organization from others. The design, concept, and purpose behind a brand can emphasize an organization's identity and can help create an emotional connection between the organization and the public. E.V.E. will be able to stand out among student-led organizations and become more powerful if its branding is done with the proper inspiration and process.

Why EVE?

Our organization was created under the name E.V.E., and as a result, the name will always be a part of our roots/history.

We launched our Instagram account, programs, campaigns, and events under this name, establishing connections with other organizations and students.

Why EVE?

The members of our organization have voiced concern about the connotations of our organization name. Here are the top issues:

1. The name Eve is derived from the Bible. Eve is the first woman created and becomes known as Adam's wife. This contradicts our values of secularism and intersectionality.
Associating our name with a Bible figure may turn away non-religious people and those of various faiths from our organization.
2. The name Eve is a feminine/female name. This contradicts our value of intersectionality (accepting all gender identities and expressions) and limits us from reaching certain audiences (i.e. men).

Why EVE?

If we resolve these issues by changing our organization name, this would create confusion among students and other organizations, risking the loss of our pre-existing audience.

Instead of changing the name EVE, our organization can rebrand in a manner that we associate our name with educate-voice-empower, rather than the name Eve.

How Can We Rebrand?

(Est. 1963) Weight Watchers is global wellness company and the world's leading commercial weight management program. They engage in a digital experience and face-to-face group meetings where members learn about healthy eating (recipes and tips), physical activity, and positive mindset.

Weight Watchers rebranded their business to WW to “welcome anyone who wants to build healthy habits”. They did this because their business struggled with name concerns:

1. The name “Weight Watchers” implicated that they focused on weight above all else.
2. “Weight Watching” may have trigger sensitivity in individuals who struggle or had struggles with eating disorders, body dysmorphia, exercise obsessive disorder, certain medical conditions, etc...
3. The name had a negative connotation that disapproved their aim of delivering “wellness for all”.

Why EVE?

WW demonstrates how we can keep our organization name, but create new designs and logos to improve the way our identity is viewed.

Our pre-established name, EVE, is a soft word with an already pleasant tone. This three-letter name is a great way to increase recognition as the tone can easily be remembered by anyone (perfect for non-fluent/non-English speakers).

Rough Work

The squared speech bubble of the new logo represents speaking out and advocating for a subject. The font inside the bubble is designed to look eye-catching, bold, friendly, and welcoming in a bubbly, chubby, and bolded font. The purple colour was used to match our new Instagram theme.

Icons .

Icon.

Symbol of mindfulness and presence.

The two coinciding drops of water are inspired by the symbol of mindfulness and presence. The idea of presence references an affirmation/slogan that the EVE team supports, "my presence is my power" (by Gabrielle Bernstein). The water droplets represent two different people or two speech bubbles that come together like a Venn Diagram. This illustrates that every person is different, but how they can all come together (work together) and agree on similar struggles and moral values (i.e. gender equality).

The water drops fall in different directions to demonstrate how different people going in different directions (on different paths with different beliefs) can co-exist.

This Venn diagram and co-existing design concept is applied to all icons.
